Suicide of a Young Clerk

Allen S. Jones, clerk in A. J. Saleeby's store committed suicide in a room over the store Thursday evening, March 12, by shooting himself in the forehead with a 32 calibre revolver. Mr. Jones was 21 years of age and came to Johnson last fall from his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., to clerk for Mr. Saleeby. He locked the store at 6 o'clock, his usual supper time and before half-past six a revolver shot was heard on the street by E. E. Holmes and others. When Jones did not return, search was made for him in different places and at last about nine o'clock the store room on the second floor was broken into and his body found. The proper authorities were notified and pronounced the case one of suicide. The young man is survived by a father, mother and sister. The father is a travelling man and was in Massachusetts at the time. The mother and sister went to Denver, Col., this winter for the sister's health, the mother had gone from Denver to California. Mr. Saleeby received a telegram from her Saturday to keep the body, saying she would be here Thursday to care for it. No cause is known for the deed. A letter was found in his coat pocket written to his sister in Denver Wednesday evening containing no note of despondency but rather daily happenings and cheerfulness. Mr. Jones was a very intelligent, promising young man and had made many warm friends in the short time he had been here. To say that this community were greatly shocked does not express the feeling, surely sympathy goes out from this people to the bereaved family. Then, the blow falls heavily upon Mr. Saleeby, who was a personal friend of the young man and his family. He has been untiring in his efforts to reach each member of the family and is doing all in his power for their consolation.

Many Vermonters Were Present

The New England society of Ardmore, Oklahoma, the first organization of the sort in the new State of Oklahoma, held its first regular meeting since organization at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Goodwin at that place last week. Maple sugar, maple syrup and other maple favors were served.
Ardmore is one of the most cosmopolitan and progressive cities in the southwest, probably due in a large measure to the fact that it has more genuine Yankees within its limits than any city of the size in the whole section. Many New Englanders in nearby cities have asked to be enrolled with the Ardmore club, so they will be entitled to attend its meetings frequently.
The following are the officers of the society: President, L. L. Pearl of Johnson, Vt., who with his family spend the greater part of each year in his winter home in Ardmore.
Secretary-Treasurer, H. G. Spaulding, formerly of St. Albans but now secretary of the Ardmore Commercial Club. The Vermont members of the club include:
Capt. George H. Bruce, who left his native town of Post Mills in 1849, going south, serving in the Confederate army through the war and now being a prominent officer of the United Confederate Veterans camp. Alterations in the steamships and repairs to the engines and boilers at the power station, has caused a shut down for several days on the electric road.
F. E. Smith is fitting up the Dillingham mill at Moscow, a recent purchase, with hardwood working machinery and expects to begin the manufacture of parcel handles in about a month.
Dr. Barrows, Dr. Morgan, Howard Shaw and Craig Burt were in Morrisville last Thursday evening in attendance upon a Commandery meeting, at which time Craig was made acquainted with the mysteries of the Red Cross degree of that order.
Assistant Judges Parker and Walker were here last week Wednesday and held consultation with various townspeople as to who would make a good board of License Commissioners and as a result selected Chas. Burt, A. A. Pike and J. L. Stafford. This is certainly a strong board and they will give "a good account of their stewardship" and also require those who get licenses to do likewise.
The high school juniors gave a successful entertainment at Akeley memorial building Friday evening. There was a large attendance many from the Waterbury high school being present. The program included an illustrated reading, "The Counting," by Ruth Collins, E. L. Bigelow and Rebecca Burt, an amusing farce, charming Mexican drill, and a dance, the high school orchestra gave excellent music. The Mexican drill was carried out by twelve young ladies with Mrs. T. A. Douglas and Miss Mabel Carr as queens. The farce was entitled, "The Teeth of the Gift Horse," and the parts were taken by Healey Bashaw, Beulah Robinson, Inez Smith, Raeburn McMahon, Avis Yearren and Ruth McMahon.
That the lumber business is our greatest industry may be seen from the following facts:—The C. E. & F. O. Burt company has about 3,000,000 feet cut and 2,000,000 feet in the woods at the close of the season. F. E. Smith has about 1,250,000 feet of lumber cut and expects to secure all but about 100,000 feet before the season closes. H. E. Shaw will secure about 1,000,000 feet. P. D. Pike & Son have 1,200,000 feet cut and hope to get it all in. The Stowe Lumber company will not secure quite as much as last year, probably less than 2,000,000 feet. Levi Taylor is getting about 200,000 feet. J. E. Houston 100,000, and E. A. Gibbs 100,000. J. J. Billings has about 100,000 feet cut in the woods but is not drawing at present, his teams being in Belvidere. Moody & O'Neil at Nebraska will have perhaps 600,000 feet. The season has been very backward and the expense of getting lumber has been unusually large.

STATE NEWS

There are twenty-two patients at the Vermont Sanatorium, Pittsford.
From a small plant growing in an ordinary sized pot, Mrs. H. A. Ross, of Ludlow, recently picked a lemon that measured twelve and one-half inches in circumference and weighed eleven ounces.
The prohibition element in Brantree, caught napping town meeting day when license won, has secured the calling of a special town meeting March 27 to settle the kind of license to be granted, a strong sentiment favoring the sale of malt liquors only.
Capt. J. E. Eldridge, of Randolph, says that during the Civil War, Vermont commissioned forty-six colonels, and of that number, seven are now living—Saver of the 3rd regiment; Grant of the 5th; Lincoln of the 6th; Ripley of the 9th; Henry of the 10th; Hansen of the 11th.
The will of the late Senator Redfield Proctor is said to be an exceptionally long one, being made up of between thirty-five and forty clauses. According to general understanding there are no public bequests of any size. There are many gifts of small amounts in real estate and bonds to relatives and friends.
The annual sugar-out of the Vermont Association of Boston will be held at the Westminster hotel in that city the evening of March 26. The sugar will come from Corinth, the home of Gen. Charles K. Darling and that the sugar may have a distinctly Vermont flavor, the snow upon which it will be cooled will be brought from the Green Mountain state, also. There will be served with the sugar, apples, popcorn, cider, pickles, and other Vermont specialties.
Had ex-Gov. Samuel E. Pingree's service as town clerk of Hartford not been interrupted by service in the Civil War, nearly four years would have been added to his record, which as it is, totals forty-four successive years. Mr. Pingree was born in Salisbury, N. H., in 1832, grew up inured to all the hardships of farm life at that time, worked for and secured his own education, including four years at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N. H., and legal training in the office of A. P. Hutton at Bethel. He settled in Hartford last before the war, entered it as a private and came out a lieutenant-colonel. Before this he was state's attorney, lieutenant-governor, governor and railroad commissioner for ten years.

Alcohol not needed

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a strong drink. As now made, there is not a drop of alcohol in it. It is a non-alcoholic tonic and alterative. Ask your own doctor about your taking this medicine for thin, impure blood. Follow his advice every time. He knows.

Ask your doctor, "What is the first great rule of health?" Nine doctors out of ten will quickly reply, "Keep the bowels regular." Then ask him another question, "What do you think of Ayer's Pills for constipation?"
